SKIN ELEMENTS SHIPS SECOND ECO-NURTURE ORDER TO FARMLANDS IN NEW ZEALAND

Highlights

- Second NZ$150,000 order of ECO-Nurture shipped to Farmlands, New Zealand's leading rural co-operative.
- NZ$300,000 now shipped, half of the initial NZ$600,000 order announced on 9 July 2026, with further orders to follow.
- Registration of ECO-Nurture under New Zealand's ACVM Act remains a key focus for the Company, with lodgement of the application a priority.

Skin Elements Limited (ASX: SKN; "Skin Elements" or "the Company") advises that it has shipped the second NZ$150,000 (excl NZ GST) order of its ECO-Nurture horticultural plant bio-stimulant to New Zealand's leading rural co-operative, Farmlands Co-Operative Society Limited (Farmlands).

Executive Chairman, Mr Roderick Nicholas, said:

"Shipping the second order to Farmlands is another practical step in establishing ECO-Nurture in the New Zealand market. Our immediate focus in New Zealand is getting the ECO-Nurture ACVM registration application lodged as we work toward full registration, which we see as key to unlocking a long-term National Sales Agreement with Farmlands, while in Australia we continue to advance our formulation science and next-generation R&D program."

The shipment is the second order under the initial NZ$600,000 order of ECO-Nurture placed under the exclusive distribution agreement with Farmlands, as announced to ASX on 9 July 2026. With this shipment, the Company has now shipped NZ$300,000 (excl NZ GST) of the initial order to Farmlands. The remaining NZ$300,000 (excl NZ GST) is expected to be supplied in further orders under the agreement.

Farmlands is New Zealand's leading farmer-owned rural co-operative, transacting more than NZ$2.5 billion in business annually and operating more than 80 stores across New Zealand.

Advancing the registration of ECO-Nurture under the Agricultural Compounds and Veterinary Medicines Act 1997 (NZ) (ACVM) is a key area of focus for the Company, and lodging the ACVM application remains an immediate priority. Under the distribution agreement, Skin Elements and Farmlands intend to enter into a National Sales Agreement for the exclusive, ongoing sale and distribution of ECO-Nurture in New Zealand subject to obtaining ACVM registration (noting there is no certainty as to the timing or grant of regulatory approval).

Alongside advancing the ACVM approval lodgement for ECO-Nurture in New Zealand, Skin Elements continues to progress its research and development program across key formulations within its natural product range. Led by Chief Technical Officer Leo Fung, this ongoing applied R&D encompasses next-generation formulation science, preservative-free stability, efficacy optimisation, and technical scale-up.

This ASX announcement has been authorised for release by the Board of Skin Elements Limited.
